I: Stepladder Mountains (2,927'), Old Woman Mountain (5,325') – Join us for a fun weekend way out in eastern California near Needles, CA as we climb a couple of classic desert peaks along the botanical transition zone between the Mojave and Colorado Deserts. Both climbs require strenuous effort, which we'll exert at a moderate pace, and will require comfort on rocky, thorny, steep, and loose class 2 desert terrain. Saturday we'll head out into the Stepladder Mtns Wilderness Area and work our way up the zig-zagging ledge system of the Stepladder Mtn's eastern face to the top of the pinnacle just south of High Point of the range. After marveling at the views from up top, we'll return the way we came in for a day's total of about 12 RT miles and 1,500' of gain. Back at our cars that evening, we'll set up a primitive, dry camp and enjoy a festive Happy Hour and Potluck under waxing gibbous winter night skies. Sunday we'll head over to our trailhead for the Old Woman Mountains High Point, located west of Saturday's peak, and set out to the south along road, canyon, and ridge to the High Point of the range. From that summit we'll thoroughly enjoy the views before heading back down the way we came up for a day's total of about 6.5 RT miles with 2,800' of gain. High clearance, 4WD vehicles required. Comfort on loose and exposed class 2 terrain required. This DPS Outing is co-sponsored by WTC and HPS. O: Cahuilla Mountain (5,635') - While Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" (1852) contributed to bringing to light African Americans' misery in the east, Helen Hunt Jackson's "Ramona" (1884) exposed the infringement on Native-American human rights with her story of the terrible, but true, treatment of the Cahuilla Indians. You are invited to the place of young Ramona and Alessandro's story. You will be able to enjoy the fine views of mountain ranges - Mt. San Jacinto, Thomas Mountain, Desert Divide, as well as the sights of beautiful Ribbon Trees, Manzanitas, Oaks, and Coulter Pines. The three hour hike will be easy paced, comprised of gentle slopes of the mountains and crests, 6-mile peaceful grassland walk to and from, and 1700' gain. Please bring : 10 essentials, 2 liters of water, lunch, warm layer, and lug soles are required. Welcome WTC students and HPS hikers- Join us on this delightful hike in Azusa Canyon with fantastic views of the San Gabriel Wilderness. From the summit of Smith Mountain, the leaders will point out nearby interesting peaks. We plan to take the very pleasant Upper Bear Creek Trail to a saddle and then scramble up a ridge on a use trail to the peak. Hike is about 7.5 miles round trip with a total elevation gain of about 2100 feet. Bring about 2 liters of water, sun hat, sun block, food, layers of clothing (rain gear, warm jacket, gloves etc.) and lugsoled shoes and a fun snack to share. This pleasant, moderate hike is geared towards current WTC students to help condition, to introduce the Hundred Peaks Section of the Sierra Club, to bag an HPS peak, and to sign the peak register! As well as have a great time in the process. You can try out your new WTC boots and gear on this hike! I: Nopah Range HP (6,394'), Brown Peak (4,947') – Come join us for a strenuous but fun weekend of desert peak bagging out near Death Valley NP high above the Chicago Valley north-northeast of Shoshone, CA. Both climbs require strenuous effort, which we'll exert at a moderate pace, and will require comfort on rocky, thorny, steep, and loose class 2 desert terrain. Saturday morning we'll head out just before first light from our camp at the trailhead into the Nopah Range Wilderness Area to ascend the western flank of the Nopah Range to its high point. After thoroughly enjoying the reportedly exquisite views up there, we'll return the way we came in for a day's total of about 10 RT mi with 4,200' gain. We'll make camp where we're parked and will celebrate the weekend around a roaring campfire under waxing crescent night skies with a traditional DPS Potluck Happy Hour. Sunday we'll drive into Death Valley via Shoshone over HCV and 4WD required dirt roads to the trailhead for the west side approach to Brown Peak in the Greenwater Range. A mere 3 miles with 2,100' of gain will get us up to the summit, where we'll eat a little lunch and enjoy the views before heading back down to our cars via the same route we came up. RESCHEDULED FROM MAR 12 - I: Aqua Tibia (4779') - Join us for the day in the Cleveland National Forest, 13 miles southeast of Temecula. We will start at the Dripping Spring Campground. The first 8 miles are on trail. The last quarter mile is a use trail that takes us through the brush to the summit. 17 miles round trip, 3200' of gain, estimate 8-9 hours of hiking. There is not much of a view from the summit, but there are many nice views along the way. Some of the largest Manzanitas can be found along the Dripping Springs Trail. Above 4000' there are many Coulter Pines. Tall Red Shank Chamise grows here, typical for the San Jacinto Mountains. This is the last bump to the west side of Palomar Mountain and is in the center of the Agua Tibia Wilderness. Slow to moderate pace. Bring food, water, 10 essentials. I: Backus Peak (6651'), Russell Peak (6696') - As one drives north from Mojave, these peaks rise magnificently into view, beckoning for a visit, inviting a ridge traverse between the two. Added to the HPS list in 1999, both peaks were named in recognition of the extensive leadership and service of two men. John Backus was a highly accomplished physicist, musician, and climber who conceived and realized the idea of leading the entire HPS list. Bill T Russell was a supreme leader, navigator, instructor, and climber -- a Triple list finisher (HPS, DPS and SPS). Honoring their example, we will be hiking 8.5 miles with 4000' gain, enjoying views of the Sierra, the high desert and Indian Wells Valley. Please bring liquids, lugsoles, layers, lunch and hat. I: Old Man Mtn (5538'), Monte Arido (6010'): Expansive views of the magnificent Pacific Ocean, wild and remote canyons and ranges, and beautiful pine forests on steep northern slopes reward the eyes and prove that one mountain is misnamed, for arid and barren it is not. The other is aptly named. While one of the canyons is rumored to have been the hideout of Joaquin Murietta, another, Old Man Canyon, was named for Jose Ortega, a descendent of a member of the Portola expedition, 1769-1770, "the first recorded European land entry and exploration of present-day California". I: Whale Peak (5349') - SPRING FLING!! JOIN US FOR A WEEKEND OF FUN!! Hike with us Saturday and/or Sunday (see separate Sunday posting for Sombrero Peak). On Saturday we will visit Whale Peak. Expect a really fun hike to this magnificent peak in the Anza Borrego Desert. It's worth the drive! Traveling mostly cross-country, we will search for petroglyphs near the trailhead before traveling across the desert floor to ascend a scenic canyon. Cutting up from there we will pass through a grassy meadow to pick our way up to the rocky peak on use trail for sweeping views. This will be a slow-paced hike, designed to accommodate hikers who need -- or want -- more time to get to an HPS peak. Total distance should be around 8 miles, and total gain should be about 2300 feet. Following the hike there will be an optional visit to Borrego Palms Canyon Campground, where one can enjoy a hearty Happy Hour and a Potluck. Socializing will be mandatory! Stay Saturday night at the campground or a nearby motel. HPS requests a fee of $5 per person ($10 per family) per night to help with the campground fees. Reservations are on a first come, first served basis, so be sure to email the HPS Programs Committee reservationist at mkelliher746@gmail.com early to assure your spot! 2017 HPS Spring Fling - Come join us as we celebrate the return of Spring with a weekend of peakbagging and merry-making in the Anza-Borrego Desert. Saturday night we'll be camping out and partying it up at the Borrego Palms Canyon Campground. HPS requests a fee of $5 per person ($10 per family) to help defray campground reservation costs. Send email to HPS Programs Reservationist at mkelliher746@gmail.com to reserve your spot, and do so fast, because this one will fill up fast!! Check the schedule for specific hikes to be offered, and sign up for a particular hike directly with its leaders.

I: Sombrero Peak (4229') – HOLIDAY HOOPLAH!! JOIN US FOR A WEEKEND OF FUN!! VISIT A REALLY COOL DPS PEAK!! Hike with us Sunday and/or Saturday (see separate Saturday posting for Whale Peak). On Sunday we will visit Sombrero Peak, which at 4229' does not qualify for the HPS list. However, it is on the Desert Peak Section's list and is a fun one! Travel will be cross-country through gorgeous -- but rocky, brushy and thorny -- desert terrain. This will be a slow-paced hike, designed to accommodate hikers who need -- or want -- more time to get to a DPS peak. Total distance should be around 3 miles, and total gain should be about 2100 feet. Bring food, water, hiking footwear, layers, hat and sunblock. Contact Leader for status and details. I: Sheep Mountain (5141') and Martinez Mountain (6560+') - Join us for a fun overnight trip in the Santa Rosa Wilderness as we climb Sheep and Martinez Mountains. Sheep Mountain was named for the Peninsular Bighorn Sheep, and the habitat in the Santa Rosa Mountains is reported to support the largest herd of Bighorn Sheep in the country. The two day hike will be strenuous, but the pace will be slow to moderate to accommodate hikers who need or want more time to get to HPS peaks. On Saturday morning, we will hike 4.5 miles (550' loss/770' gain) with backpacks on trail to the Cactus Spring area (dry) to set up camp. Participants will need to carry 10 - 12 liters of water. We will then carry day packs in the afternoon as we climb Sheep Mountain, a distance of 4.3 miles roundtrip (1,000' gain). We will return to Cactus Spring for the night. On Sunday morning, we will carry day packs to the summit of Martinez Mountain and back to Cactus Spring, a distance of 6.2 miles roundtrip (2300' gain), where we will break camp and pack out. The total for the two days will be 19.5 miles round trip with 4,620' elevation gain. O: Josephine Peak (5558') – Come join us for a pleasant outing to a mile high peak in the front range of the San Gabriel Mountains. No peak in the Angeles National Forest west of Josephine is taller. There was a fire lookout located at the summit from 1937 until it burned down in 1976. Josephine Peak is a simple out and back trek using the remote and scenic Colby Canyon trail and finishing with a short bit of fire road. The views from the summit offer great sight-lines into the interior of the San Gabriel Mountains, the L.A. basin, south to Catalina Island, and to the east, nearby Strawberry, Lawlor, and beyond. Total trip distance is about 8 miles with an elevation gain of around 1900'. Bring 2-3 liters of water, sun hat, sun block, food, snacks, layers of clothing and hiking shoes. I: Toro West Peak (8316'), Santa Rosa Mountain (8070'), Rouse Hill (5168'), Thomas Mountain (6825') – Join us for a midweek getaway hike to Santa Rosa Mountain and Thomas Mountain. We will enjoy great views of pine forests and grab four peaks by driving from trailhead to trailhead. The dirt road is bumpy and we'll need high-clearance, 4 wheel drive vehicles to travel on it. The hike to Toro Peak is one mile with 500' gain. Rouse Hill requires a walk of about 500' horizontal to the summit. Santa Rosa Mountain and Thomas Mountain are both drive ups. Total hiking for the day will be around 1.5 miles and 500' gain. Bring liquid, lug soles, layers, lunch, snacks, sunscreen and hat. Rain cancels. Please Contact May at hitomitang@hotmail.com for trip details. Leader: May Tang, Assistant Leader: Jimmy Quan, Mike Dillenback

I: THE BIG THREE - McKinley Mountain (6200'), San Rafael Mountain (6593'), Santa Cruz Peak (5570'): Very strenuous, moderately paced backpack in central Santa Barbara County. This is a very remote area known for its beautiful wildflowers. This "exciting" and "fun" backpack mostly follows dirt roads and potentially overgrown use trails, but the off-trail excursions promise to be the most interesting. Following a 7.5-mile hike from the trailhead, drop overnight gear at McKinley Spring Camp, whose spring will provide water for the rest of the outing. This event satisfies WTC experience trip requirements. Two-day totals: 34 miles, 8800' gain. Participants will be provided with details within a few days of the outing. See how the area is recovering from the 2003 Curve Fire and enjoy views of both the LA Basin and the Antelope Valley. 8 miles, 2420' gain at a slow to moderate pace. Well behaved K9s on leash that are used to rocky terrain welcome. Adventure Pass required for parking. Bring lunch, 10 essentials, and at least 2 quarts of water (and additional water plus clean up bags for your K9 companion). Optional: treat yourself to a brownie or other goodies at the Crystal Lake Cafe following the hike. Meet at 6am at the Long Beach Rideshare or 8:00 am at the Windy Gap Trailhead in the Crystal Lake Campground. No Tigers, please. Sponsored by HPS and the Long Beach Group.

O: Mount Pinos (8831'), Sawmill Mountain (8818'), Grouse Mountain (8650') - Enjoy the pretty pine-forested trail of this three peak trek and connect interesting history, geology, and outstanding panoramas. Mt Pinos is the high point of Ventura County and center of the world for the indigenous Chumash. Sawmill Mtn, high point of the Chumash Wilderness and possible high point of Kern County, presents excellent views of the San Andreas Fault as it travels northwest towards the Carrizo Plain. Grouse Mtn, deeper in the Chumash Wilderness and HPS's first 100th peak (June 30, 1946), proffers the sense of solitude that remote hiking inspires. Totals for this out and back route are 8 miles rt and 2040' gain. Hike-experienced dogs with well-behaved owners welcome. I: Ken Point (6423') - Join us for an adventure on a portion of the Pacific Crest Trail in Riverside County to a peak on the Desert Divide. Peak name informally given by the HPS based on a benchmark named "Ken" (1941). In this case "Ken" was almost certainly derived from the infamous Kenworthy Mine which once existed 2.3 air miles to the northwest. This was a "mine" in name only, and it not only never paid off but was one of the great frauds of its age, ruining many of its gullible British backers. We will take the standard route -- the San Bernardino Peak Trail -- which starts at the Angelus Oaks trailhead. This trail will take us from deep pine forest to exposed manzanita slopes, and we may visit the Washington Monument survey point at 10,290 feet along the way. In 1852 Colonel Henry Washington and his Army survey party were directed to erect a monument high up on San Bernardino Peak. The monument was to be an east-west reference point from which all future surveys of Southern California would be taken. Total round-trip distance will be about 20 miles, and total elevation gain will be around 5,500 feet. Please bring water, lunch, snacks, layers, hiking footwear, sunblock & hat. I: Kratka Ridge (7,515'), Waterman Mountain (8,038') – LEAD THE LIST FINISH!!! Join us for a gorgeous hike along pine-forested ridge to a couple of classically scenic HPS peaks up in the heart of the San Gabriel Mountains. We'll set up this strenuous hike as a shuttle that we'll do at a moderate pace. We'll start out near Cedar Springs and travel west over cross country terrain to gain the ridge above Snowcrest Ski Area and continue to its high point at Kratka Ridge. From there we'll continue west along that rolling ridge, descending and ascending until we intersect with the trail that leads to Waterman Mountain; we'll follow that trail to the summit where we'll meet up with a bunch of other intrepid hikers who've travelled there via other routes to celebrate the annual HPS Waterman Rendezvous. We'll also congratulate and help Jimmy Quan celebrate LEADING THE HPS LIST, which he'll finishing doing on this trip up to Waterman Mountain!! We'll hang out and party with our friends up top for an hour or so (be sure to bring along your favorite tasty snacks to share with the group!) before heading cross country down to our cars at Cloudburst summit. Expect a day's total of about 5.5 miles with 2,500' of gain. Email contact info, along with recent experience and conditioning to mkelliher746@gmail.com for trip status and details. O: Suicide Rock (7528'), Indian Mtn (5790'), Thomas Mtn (6825') - Enjoy the multitude and variety of great views accompanying our visit to these peaks near Idyllwild. All three points share a connection to Helen Hunt Jackson, author of Ramona. Indian Mountain's name traces back to a Soboba tradition of naming creeks running through their land, possession of which they almost lost until an 1883 report, co-authored by Jackson, contributed to the establishment of the Soboba Indian Reservation. Suicide Rock is linked to efforts to boost late 19th century tourism with the telling of a story that has elements of Ramona and Romeo & Juliet -- an Indian princess and her lover jump to their death, rather than live separated from one another. And, one of the approaches to Thomas Mtn is via the pretty Ramona Trail. Visit one, two or all three peaks with us. Suicide Rock will be 6.6 miles round trip with 1850' gain; Indian Mtn will be 4 mi rt and 800' gain; and, Thomas will be gained with a drive up to its beautiful summit. High clearance vehicles advised, preferably 4WD. Group size limited by number of hcv's. Please bring liquids, lugsoles, layers, lunch and hat. Contact peterdoggett@aol.com for trip details. Our route travels through the Los Coyotes Indian Reservation, the largest reservation in the county and home to some of the Cahuilla peoples. Then, take a drive to the highest point in the Palomar Mountains and its magnificent lookout. Relish the impressive distant vistas -- the Anza-Borrego mountains, the San Jacintos, the San Bernardinos, the San Gabriels, and the Santa Anas. Michael D Dillenback 310-378-7495 dillyhouse@earthlink.net

2017 HPS Fall Festival - Welcome in the crisp, cool days of autumn with a fun and festive weekend filled with outstanding peak bagging and an evening of partying in the Garner Valley area of the San Bernardino National Forest southeast of Mountain Center, CA. Camp with us at the large Group Campsite we've reserved in "Loop D" at Hurkey Creek Campground Saturday night, or stay in one of many motels in the nearby village of Idyllwild, CA. Wherever you stay, everyone is welcome to join us for a hearty Happy Hour and Potluck Saturday night, along with lots of socializing and serious relaxing around a roaring campfire beneath the waxing crescent-lit, starry night sky. Check the HPS website, the Lookout, or the Angeles Chapter Outings website for scheduled Fall Festival hikes, and contact hike leaders directly for information on specific hikes. HPS requests a $5 per person ($10 per family) charge to help defray campground fees. Reservations are on a first come, first served basis, so be sure to email the HPS Programs Chair Mike Dillenback at dillyhouse@earthlink.net early to assure your spot!

I: East Fork Traverse Vincent Gap (6560') to Heaton Flat (2030') - Memorable and magnificent aptly describe this adventure. Join us for our 3-peat. Usher in autumn, venturing into the spectacular Sheep Mountain Wilderness and journeying down the East Fork of the San Gabriel River. We'll voyage down the wooded Vincent Gap trail to the remote wild habitat of the wide river bed created by the confluence of Vincent Gulch, Mine Gulch and Prairie Fork. Navigating to a convergence with the magnificent Fish Fork, and then past Iron Fork, rock hops and stream crossings along the way, we will enter the Narrows. Not only is this the deepest gorge in Southern California, rising 5200' and 4000' to the east and west, the Narrows' rugged grandeur may make it the most beautiful and unforgettable. Our exploration will take us to the arched concrete Bridge to Nowhere, through a corridor of prospecting history, and out to Heaton Flats. Though a car shuttle makes this only about 500' gain (4560' loss) and 16.5 miles, this one day quest is only for the skilled experienced hiker. Please bring liquids, lugsoles, layers, lunch, headlamp and hat. For trip details, send hiking resume to peterdoggett@aol.com . Leaders Peter & Ignacia Doggett; Jinoak Chung, Sunny Yi, Jason Park

I: C2C - Cactus to Clouds - San Jacinto Peak (10,804') -- Come climb Cactus to Clouds, possibly the second hardest day hike in the contiguous United States. As in next weekend's BW2T, Badwater to Telescope ascent, we will go from desert to alpine biomes in only a few hours. We'll begin early Saturday morning from Palm Springs; climb past cacti, cholla, ferns and pines; enjoy San Jacinto summit's beautiful panoramic views; and return to the desert floor via a ride on the rotating tram. At about 11,000' gain and 20 miles, this strenuous day hike is only for the fit and experienced hiker. Please bring $$ for tram and taxi back to car. LEADERSHIP TRAINING SEMINAR

Anne Marie Richardson 909-621-2812 AMLeadership@gmail.com

DARE TO LEAD!! Attend the Fall 2017 Leadership Training Seminar. What better way to step up and lead your favorite outing than by taking advantage of the training opportunities that the Angeles Chapter's Leadership Training Committee (LTC) provides each year. The Sierra Club Angeles Chapter's many groups, sections and committees sponsor thousands of trips ranging from easy hikes to backpacks to world wide travel and mountaineering expeditions. From experienced volunteer leaders you will learn how to plan a trip, handle problems on the trail and make sure that everyone has a great time. You'll gain knowledge about good conservation and safety practices, along with tips for getting your "O" rating quickly and then, if you choose, pursuing more advanced ratings. The all-day class costs $25. The application is available online at angeles.sierraclub.org/ltc_leadership_seminar. You can also pore over more of LTC's upcoming offerings and leadership information on this site, including the brand new Paypal option! Mail the application and check $25, payable to Sierra Club, to Steve Botan, LTC Registrar, 18816 Thornwood Circle, Huntington Beach 92646. You also can reach Steve by email: ltpseminarregistrar@gmail.com Applications and checks are due Sept. 23, 2017. Scholarships are available for those with financial need. I: BW2T - Panamint Traverse, Badwater to Telescope Peak (11,049') - "The problem many of us face is not that we aim high and miss, but that we aim low and hit the mark." From Telescope Peak, the high point of Death Valley National Park, you can gaze upon the highest point in the contiguous United States, Mt. Whitney (14,505'). Turn around and gaze upon Badwater, the low point of DVNP and the lowest point in North America (-280 feet). Aim high with us. Climb the crown of the Panamint Mountains as a one day BW2T. We'll set up a car shuttle on Friday; start early on Saturday from Shorty's Well (-250 feet); summit, and finish at Mahogany Flats on Saturday afternoon. At about 11,500' gain and 21 miles, this is one of the hardest (if not the hardest) day hikes in the contiguous United States. Pair this weekend's BW2T with last weekend's C2C, if possible. I: Mount Marie Louise (5,507'), Pilot Rock (5,260'), The Pinnacles (5,737') – Join us for a pleasant autumn day of moderately paced hiking in the San Bernardino National Forest northwest of Lake Arrowhead, CA. We'll start out with Mt Marie Louise and Pilot Rock; if we've got enough High Clearance, 4WD vehicles with us we'll drive in on the jeep road, park along the south flank, and get out for the short ascent up cross country terrain to the summit of Marie Louise for a total of 1.8 RT miles with 650' of gain. Lacking 4WD vehicles, we'll walk in along the jeep road, then up to the summit and back for a total of 3.8 RT miles with 1,000' of gain. Pilot Rock is reached by continuing west along the jeep road beyond our 4WD parking spot for Marie Louise; if we walk this section, it will add 3.0 RT miles with 400' gain to the trip, if we can drive part/all of it, it will be that much less of a walk. Next we'll drive over to the trailhead for The Pinnacles, and then hike up trail and old jeep road to the summit. We'll return the way we came in for a total of 3.5 RT miles with 1,150' gain. Well behaved dogs are welcome and encouraged to join us! High Clearance (preferably 4WD) vehicles are most welcome. I: Cleghorn Mtn (5333'), Cajon Mtn (5360'+), Sugarpine Mtn (5478'), Bailey Peak (5699'), Monument Peak #2 (5290') - Take in views of Silverwood Lake and the high desert as we visit the Lake Arrowhead area and 5 peaks with geologic or historical significance. Starting with the San Andreas Fault-carved pass and ending at the point that honored the padre who blazed "El Camino del Diablo" (later known as Old Spanish Trail; the priest was also part the Juan Bautista de Anza expedition), this trek highlights places of import to Southern California history. High clearance vehicles advised; 4x4 preferred. These 5 separate hikes total 6 mi rt & 1500' gain, less with a 4x4 option on the first peak (Dogs, with a 4x4 ride, can join us on the first peak and the rest of the peaks; they may wish to skip the buckthorn near Cajon's summit, unless they're small enough to be carried above it.). Please bring liquids, lugsoles, layers, lunch and hat. Contact peterdoggett@aol.com for trip details. Leaders Peter & Ignacia Doggett

O: Tehachapi Mountain (7960'+) and Mount McDill (5187') - Join us for hiking in the mountains that define the Western edge of the Mojave Desert. Our first hike will be to the Tehachapi Mountain peak in Southern Kern County. We will hike through fir and pine forests for 4.4 miles round trip with a gain of 2000 ft on fire road and trail. The hike through the forest is quite pleasant. Then we drive to the Sierra Pelona Mountains in Northern Los Angeles County for our second hike; the summit of Mount McDill pictured through short grasses, scrub oak trees, yucca, and other chaparral shrubs. The hike will be 6.4 miles round trip with a gain of 1700 feet on power line roads and trail. This grassy peak has great views of the Antelope Valley and the Tehachapi Mountains that we visited on our first hike. Totals for the day will be 10.8 miles and 3700 feet elevation gain. I: Join us for a hike to Allen Peak (5795') on the western end of the spectacular Yucaipa Ridge. This is an opportunity to summit the peak that is sometimes skipped when attempting to hike the full length of the ridge and there is just not enough daylight. The approach to Allen is owned by The Wildlands Conservancy whose admirable mission is the following: "To preserve the beauty and biodiversity of the earth and to provide programs so that children may know the wonder and joy of nature." We will pass through the Bear Paw Preserve section of the Conservancy. The Bear Paw web site suggests that there are flying squirrels and southern spotted owls on the northern slopes of the Yucaipa Ridge, although these animals are rarely seen (press the 'More Info' button to see the web site). Still, it is an interesting and beautiful area for a hike. The totals for the day will be 7.5 miles round trip with 1300 feet of elevation gain on this Class 2, moderately difficult route. We will hike at a slow to moderate pace on road and cross-country.

Peter Doggett (818) 840-8748 peterdoggett@aol.com

O: Ken Point (6423 ft) - Join us as we hike a stretch of the Pacific Crest Trail as it winds its way around and across white rock outcrops and slabs, and through woodland and forest accented by red shank, yuccas, juniper and pines. We will leave it for a short trek to this prominent peak on the Desert Divide, and to its expansive views Palm Desert, Sheep & Martinez, Toro, and Palomar among them. The totals for the day will be 16 miles round trip with 2600 feet of gain. Dogs with hike experience, stamina, and ability to negotiate a low shrub section, welcome. Please bring liquids, lugsoles, layers, lunch and hat. Contact peterdoggett@aol.com for trip details. Leaders Peter & Ignacia Doggett; Jin Oak Chung

Peter Doggett (818) 840-8748 peterdoggett@aol.com

I/M: Spitler Peak (7440 ft), Lily Rock (8000 ft+) - Two peaks at two ends of the Desert Divide, two days after winter solstice, will make for a strong-paced day. Hiking up Fobes Cyn, then the PCT, we will reach our first summit and its views of the Coachella Valley and Salton Sea on one side of the divide, Garner Valley and Lake Hemet on the other. Then, on to our second peak, a grand granite monolith known as Tahquitz Rock to rock climbers. After following the Ernie Maxwell Trail in the company of a lovely stream, we will climb the south gully to vast views and to top-of-the-world feelings inspired by being atop this massive crag. Totals for the day will be 7 mi rt and 2300 feet gain for Spitler; 3 mi rt and 1600 feet of gain for Lily Rock. Please bring liquids, lugsoles, layers, lunch and hat.
